

CHAOS AND COMPLEX SYSTEMS SUMMER SESSIONS:

So, it has been a few years now, that we have had more structure for our CHAOS summer meetings. Perhaps, it is time to have a conversation about what we like and don't like and share thoughts and ideas with one another about parameters for topics as well as conversations. To that end, kindly review the following talking points and please bring your notions to our meeting on 9-5. Thanks.

- What is the best way to select topics; should we identify criteria for meeting substance involving chaos and/or complexity/complex systems?
- Is 20 minutes of preparatory reading or viewing and five minutes of introduction ample for relevant conversation?
- What prompts you to participate in the summer sessions?
- What would you like to see us do differently?
- Anything else?

Thanks!
