New Bad Habits is a band of dedicated musicians who celebrate the history and evolution of American old-time music. They play the old tunes and some new ones as well. This like-minded group of music aficionados offers up hot old-time music in the tradition of some of America's greatest string bands of the 1920's and 1930's, as well as original music honoring the same tradition. Chirps Smith, Dave Landreth, Tim Foss, & Andy Gribble come together in a confluence of musical styles that is pure heartland America. Midwesterners one and all, these musicians bring a passion and genuineness to the music that can only be found by living the life and playing the tunes for decades.

Beth Molaro Dancers from coast-to-coast will tell you that Beth Molaro is GREAT, and when she calls, the dance is always a party! Her enthusiasm is contagious and she makes any dance more energetic and exciting. Her ability to sing the calls makes for an exciting blend of music and calls which she accomplishes with both clarity and musical integrity. Beth calls high-energy, turbocharged squares and smooth flowing contras. Dancers are sure to leave with a dancing high.

Dance Workshops – Beth will lead dance workshops on Saturday afternoon. We will announce workshop specifics at the festival.

Music Workshops – The band members will provide music workshops on Saturday afternoon. We will announce workshop specifics at the festival.

Callers Roundtable – Steve Pike will organize another calling roundtable Sunday morning during brunch so no one has to miss any music or dancing. Look for more information at the festival.

Your willingness to volunteer helps us keep the cost of the weekend low. We ask that you sign up for a task upon arrival. It is a great way to help the festival be successful. Thank you for your cooperation.
